

SUFFRAGISTS AWAIT RESULT IN MICHIGAN

Leaders Declare They Will Wage Another Fight If They Are Defeated.

The all absorbing topic at suffrage headquarters today is the result of the campaign for votes being waged in Michigan. Reports thus far received indicate that the contest is close. Leaders at headquarters today were not disposed to place too great confidence in early dispatches reporting a suffrage victory.

"We may not be able to tell whether we have won for several days, but in any event we shall start right over again if we lose and carry on another campaign just as determined and with greater confidence and knowledge," declared Mrs. Helen H. Gardner today. She added that she hoped for the best in Michigan, but that the "interests" had been working hard against "the cause" and were making a strong showing in the cities and larger towns. "This is always so in our campaigns," she said. "The rural communities see in a suffrage victory the beginning of better conditions for our families."

Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional committee, was non-committal over the result in Michigan, saying she felt disposed to wait until returns were all in before celebrating. "But if we lose we shall start immediately to work at the next opportunity for taking up our cause and presenting it to the people," she declared.

Satisfied With Treatment.
Mrs. Harriet Burton Laidlaw said the suffragettes were thoroughly satisfied with their treatment of yesterday at the Capitol and during the parade. "Our mass meeting was effective and our reception at the Capitol assures us that we shall receive respectful consideration when we go there eventually to demand political recognition," said Mrs. Laidlaw.

Mrs. Laidlaw is president of the Woman's Suffrage party of New York, and a leader in the suffrage movement. She was enthusiastic over the results of the demonstration here yesterday, and declared she felt confident of the ultimate triumph of "the cause" through the means the women were now employing.

"We are much interested now in our coming parade of May 3 in New York," she said. "It is expected that former President Roosevelt will be the speaker at a big meeting the night before, and everything points to a great success."

Capital Suffragists to Go.
Arrangements are being made by the women here to attend this meeting in large numbers, and a special train bearing several hundred suffragettes will make the trip from here May 2, arriving in time for the meeting that evening. The appearance of the Washington delegation in the parade is expected to "create a sensation," it is declared, on account of the publicity that has been given the workers here through the pages of March 3, and the recent "attack" on the Capitol.

Following the delivery of petitions at the Capitol yesterday most of the women withdrew to carry on mass meetings all about the Capitol grounds. Leaders of the suffrage movement, to the number of 13, occupied seats in the Senate gallery through the courtesy of Senator Overman of California. Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, secretary of the National Woman Suffrage Association, was one of the leading speakers at these meetings. Other speakers were made by Mrs. Mary Beard, of New York; Miss Mary E. Allen, of New York; Congressman Hill, of Connecticut; Mrs. Nina E. Allender, president of the American League of the District of Columbia. The speakers were provided with automobiles and attracted a large following wherever they appeared.

Statesmen Felicitate Suffragette Marchers

Congratulations for the manner in which the woman's parade was carried out yesterday were received today from a number of Senators and Congressmen. One of these from Senator C. F. Thomas of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Woman Suffrage Committee, is addressed to Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional committee, and reads as follows:

"You are to be congratulated upon the complete success of this day. It was well planned and well executed, thus displaying both business judgment and executive capacity. It certainly seems to have made a good impression upon both friends and opponents of the cause, and cannot be otherwise than helpful to those of us in Congress who believe in its ultimate success."

Only Three Congressmen From New England Will Oppose Underwood Bill

Only three of seventeen Democratic Congressmen from New England will vote against the Underwood tariff bill. This was the prediction today of Congressmen Peters and Murray of Massachusetts, following a conference of the New England Democrats in Peters' office.

Despite the tariff slashing sustained by New England's industries, notably wool, cotton, boots, and shoes, and fish, the "up country" Democrats declared as a whole they will accept the bill. Their conference was the first of a series to examine and study the bill.

DISTRICT DAUGHTERS ON HORTON TICKET

There Are Also Names Casting
Their Lots With the Story
Faction for Officers.

Several District Daughters of the American Revolution are on the ticket named by Mrs. John Miller Horton to run with her for president general, as well as on the ticket named by Mrs. William Cunningham. If Mrs. Charles B. Bryan puts a full ticket in the field, it is likely that more District daughters' names will be found there too.

Mrs. Henry L. Mann, for vice president general in charge of organization of chapters, is one well known Washington woman on the Horton or "admission" ticket, as announced today. Miss Elizabeth Pierce for chaplain general is another. Miss Maryville Gillett for librarian general is a third, and Mrs. Calus M. Brumbaugh a fourth. Mrs. Brumbaugh is a candidate for registrar general.

Inasmuch as several others on the ticket have held office in the D. A. R. and spent most of their time in Washington, the whole ticket sounds as if it were made up of Washington women, although some of the women have voting support in other States. Others than those named above on the ticket with Mrs. Horton are Mrs. Horace P. McIntosh for recording secretary general, Mrs. J. E. Thomas of Colorado, and Mrs. J. Charles Wesley Bassett for historian general. Mrs. William F. Dennett for corresponding secretary general, and Mrs. Edward Orton, Jr., for assistant historian general.

Candidates for the presidency general of the Daughters are less busy than usual this week in entertaining and being entertained. The campaign has reached the acute stage, they have told friends, and they are far too busy to permit of their spending their time at teas and receptions.

Mrs. Horton's official assertion that she will have votes in certain States was vigorously denied today by Miss Florence G. Finch, Mrs. Story's chief lieutenant. Mrs. Horton's assertion with respect to votes from New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Vermont, Ohio, Louisiana, Nebraska, Oregon, and South Carolina was declared to be "ridiculously false."

"Mrs. Horton knows better," said Miss Finch. She is counting many votes for the Underwood bill, she said. Her statement is a confession of the weakness of her candidacy.

Rides to the Capitol In Lap of Secretary

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt, rode in Secretary Daniels' lap on the way to the Capitol this afternoon. Mrs. Daniels was accompanying the Secretary in the car.

The Secretary was anxious to get to the Capitol with the remainder of the Cabinet party. The first seat available was in the Secretary's carriage, and he was seated there.

"Limb in," said the Secretary, without any ceremony. Mrs. Daniels will be glad to have you come along down to the Capitol to hear the President's address. Only you'll have to sit in my lap.

The assistant secretary clambered into the carriage without waiting further invitation, and settled down on the lap of the real democratic Secretary.

Promoter Faces Trial on Alleged Fraud Charge

George P. Robinson, a promoter charged with false pretenses in connection with the sale of alleged worthless stock to Government employees, was placed on trial before Justice Stafford in Criminal Court No. 1 today.

Robinson was indicted last September on a charge of having represented to Mary R. Moore, Christina Hendricks, Clarence Baker and Robert H. Garthorn that the National Distributing Corporation owned patent rights in a "helio-copier" and sold them shares of stock, accepting cash and notes. He is alleged to have misrepresented that several prominent business men and attorneys were interested in his enterprise.

BURGLAR ESCAPES WOMAN PURSUER

Thief Dodges Mrs. Barkdale
When Men Refuse to Stop
Him at Her Request.

Chasing a burglar from her apartment in the Regina, 1214 I street northwest, to Thirteenth street and New York avenue, at noon today, Mrs. G. T. Barkdale was unable to get any one of a group of men who stood on the corner to stop the thief.

Returning home from market, Mrs. Barkdale discovered the man standing in the hall of her apartment on the second floor.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded. The man pushed her aside and ran downstairs to the first floor. Mrs. Barkdale was right after him, but as she reached the street entrance the intruder closed the door in her face and the instant he let go Mrs. Barkdale dashed out the door after him. He ran up I street to Thirteenth, where he turned south.

Entrance to the apartment was gained by duplicate key. The intruder had evidently only been in the apartment a very few minutes, as nothing was missing.

Mrs. Barkdale described the man as about forty years old, five feet eight inches tall, and of medium build. He was dressed in a gray suit and wore a gray Fedora hat.

President Canvasses Japanese Situation

The Japanese-California situation, including the threatened passage of bills by the Legislature of that State prohibiting all aliens from owning land there, was canvassed by President Wilson today with Senator Works and Congressman Raker and Kent of that State. The President was told by Congressman Raker that the California Legislature would probably pass the anti-Japanese bills within the next two weeks. The Western States have resolved to proceed with the settlement of the Japanese problem, regardless of the wishes of the Federal Government, he was told, and although it is recognized that the proposed measures may possibly be a violation of existing treaties with Japan, the California Legislature will bow to public sentiment in that state by passing the alleged discriminatory measures now before it.

Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary of the Interior Lusk briefly touched upon the matter with the President at the Cabinet meeting, but no decision as to a line of action by the Administration was reached.

Cat Club Will Meet.

The meeting of the Washington Cat Club will be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. L. West, in the Octavia apartments. Important business is scheduled for the meeting, and every member is requested to be present.

BUFFALO COMPANY ATTACKS STRIKERS

Break Tie-Up on City's Railroad Lines.

BUFFALO, April 8.—The International Railway Company today concentrated its efforts in an effort to break the strike on the Main street line. Twenty-five cars, manned by strike breakers and carrying two policemen each, were started out of the Cold Springs yard on this line. No effort was made to operate cars on the other branches. Lockport, Niagara Falls, the Tonawandas, Lancaster, and Hamburg lines were completely blocked.

The first actual attack upon the tracks of the company was made early today in the tearing out of a switch at Jefferson and Ferry streets. Eighteen arrests have been made so far on account of the strike.

William F. Cattell, a Socialist leader, was arraigned on the charge of using abusive language.

W. B. Fitzgerald, union leader, issued a statement this morning in which he put the men on record as in favor of arbitration.

President F. G. Connette, for the railway company, refused to discuss the subject of arbitration. The State department of labor today took official cognizance of the strike when it sent P. J. Downey, of Albany, member of the State board of mediation and arbitration, to this city to investigate.

Sims Reintroduces Free Tolls Provision

Congressman Sims, of Tennessee, today reintroduced his bill to repeal the "free tolls" clause of the Panama Canal act. He will press it for passage next winter. Sims has also introduced a bill proposing to abolish the Commerce Court.

SENATE HAS BRIEF MORNING SESSION

Clock Is Turned Back to Allow Upper House to Finish Its Business Program.

The Senate had a forty-five-minute recess this morning, transacting business until the time arrived to go to the House and hear the President's message. Yesterday the Senate decided to go to the House today at 12:30, but it was found this morning that the hour was too early, and the clock was turned back fifteen minutes. It was about 12:45 when the Senate went in a body to the House side.

The credentials of James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, were presented by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia. Senator Lewis was not present.

Many communications from executive departments were laid before the Senate and referred to committees. Among them were the original documents in the green-tea case, which has stirred up much comment.

Senator Goff of West Virginia, following a meeting of the Senate Republican caucus, was assigned to places on the committees on Claims, Conservation, Military Affairs, Pacific Islands, Penitentiaries, Railroads, and University of the United States.

Senator Jones introduced an inheritance tax bill. Senator Sutherland, as a bill for the relief of civil service employees by providing a system of compensation in case of accident, and Senator Gronna reintroduced his bill for the conservation of minerals and resources on public lands.

ONE KILLED WHEN CAR GOES INTO RIVER

Sixteen Others Injured as Trolley Crashes Through Bridge at Baltimore.

frantic, struggling mass of humanity, and they fought like beasts to get out and into the open. Windows were broken in the struggle and the weaker were trampled by the strong. Persons who heard the crash rushed to the scene, but it was some time before they could reach the car.

John J. Johnston, keeper of the drawbridge, heard the crash, and rushed to Kahl's pavilion, where he telephoned to the police. After that he and the proprietor of the pavilion tore down a fence to make a runway to the roof of the car. On this the wet and bleeding passengers were carried to the bridge.

The injuries consist of bruises and cuts and broken bones. Many of the passengers were so filled with water that they had to be resuscitated, but they suffered no permanent bad effects from their experience.

As the injured were taken from the car they were carried to Kahl's pavilion and laid on the floor. As soon as possible ambulances came to the scene and bore them to Mercy Hospital, where physicians and surgeons were waiting to give them immediate attention.

Sees Her Daughter's Hat.

The family of Miss Edna Chenoweth heard of the accident, and knowing that Miss Chenoweth was on that car, they rushed to the scene. Floating on the water where the accident occurred they saw a hat which they recognized as belonging to her. Mrs. Chenoweth faintly when she saw her daughter's hat, but it was discovered afterward that Miss Chenoweth had been taken to a hospital.

A witness of the accident said it was due to the vibrations of the bridge and the lightness of the car. Going at the speed it was, the car caused the bridge to vibrate very strongly, and, being light, the car was thrown off the track. It naturally ran in a diagonal direction toward the rail, and its weight tore through that.

Norman Clark, one of the passengers, said he was reading a paper when the car jumped the track, and before he could get up it was over the edge of the bridge.

"Immediately the people began to fight to get out," he said, "and I found myself on the floor, with them fighting over me. I broke a window with my flat and grasped the edge of glass. It cut me so badly that I let go and went under the water again. I finally fished out by the rescuers. I would never have got out by myself."

GOLD DUST should be in every home

Thoroughness and speed are the two essentials in cleaning house. Gold Dust cleans better, does more work and more kinds of work than any other cleanser—so much for thoroughness.

When it comes to speed, Gold Dust does any sort of cleaning in half the ordinary time. Moreover, it does all the hard part of the work with little effort on your part.

YOUNG YALE MAN IS BURIED HERE TODAY

Charles D. Walcott, Son of the Smithsonian Secretary, Dies
at His Father's Home.

Funeral services for Charles D. Walcott, eldest son of the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who died yesterday, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his father's residence, 1733 Twenty-second street. Young Walcott was a student at Yale University, but for a year had lived in California and the Catalina mountains in the hope of regaining his health.

Young Walcott was taken ill last spring, and at once went to California for his health. Last summer he came back East and later went to the Catalina mountains. His condition did not improve, however, and he returned to Washington in December, since when he had been with his father.

MRS. MARGARET LEARY.

Mrs. Margaret Leary, wife of Paul Leary, of 1201 Eleventh street northwest, died in her home yesterday. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Quick relief comes from the Hyomel treatment for catarrh and all troubles of the breathing organs such as stopped-up head, sniffles or morning choking. Put a few drops of liquid Hyomel in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and before you have used the treatment five minutes you will notice relief from your catarrhal troubles.

It gives a tonic healing effect to the air you breathe, kills the catarrhal germs, stops the poisonous secretions, soothes the irritated mucous membrane and makes a marked improvement in the general health. Hyomel is not a cure-all. It has but one aim—the relief of catarrh and diseases of the breathing organs. When there is no catarrh, the general health is improved, for then nature has a chance to build up the entire system.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, hoarse voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing and feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, or any other symptoms of catarrh, use Hyomel at once. It will destroy the disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and give a quick and permanent relief.

Hyomel does not contain cocaine or any habit-forming drug. The complete outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if later needed 50 cents. O'Donnell's Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.—Adv.
